Long-Stay Deluxe.....

Conveniently located on West 58th street, just steps away from New York's Central Park, AKA is one of the crown jewels of Korman Communities, the prominent Pennsylvania-based residential estate company. With their new luxury extended stay brand – AKA – the company is catering to travellers seeking more than just a serviced apartment experience. In fact, all AKA properties feel like hotels, the difference is that rooms are much bigger and usually include a living area, kitchens and generously sized bathrooms with all the amenities one would expect to find in a deluxe hotel. The Central Park property is the conversion of the former 17-story Wyndham Hotel, featuring one and two-bedroom suites. AKA suits corporate clients or travellers in search of a temporary home away from home. www.stayaka.com.
